hosted by ibiblio

Asian Classical Music in MP3 Format

Introduction and Disclaimer

The music on these web pages is all from recordings, most often cassettes, that are either out of print, only available in the country of origin, or both. In most cases, they appear here with the gracious permission of either the artists or the recording companies. Sometimes, if I am unable to locate anyone involved, I have made them available assuming that there is nobody who would object. If you have any direct knowledge that someone's rights are being infringed, I will delete those songs from the server. Please contact me if there are any legal issues at: my email address.

The original recordings were often less than optimal. I have improved the sound as much as I can with noise reduction software, but it can never achieve "CD" quality. They have been encoded primarily in variable bitrate to get the best sound for the file size.

These files are often quite large because I chose to encode them at higher quality settings.

Site Directory

Burma

U Ba Than on saung and pattala, Mahagita songs by Myint Maung and Yi Yi Thant and Hsaing by Sein Chit Ti

Cambodia

Mahori instrumentals from the 1970s and National Dance Theater.

China

Cantonese opera from the 1950s and Traditional music from Amoy

India

Amjad Ali Khan live on the BBC. Ajoy Chakrabarty live on the BBC. Yesudass in concert. M. Balamuralikrishna sings Raagam-Thaanam-Pallavi. Pandit Jasraj

Indonesia

Yogyakarta gamelan by Nyi Tjondrolukito. New gamelan angklung from Bali. Kacapi Suling from Sunda in West Java

Korea

Sanjo, played on Taegum and Komunggo

Laos

Music of Luang Prabang, a comparison of two recordings.

Thailand

Central Thai classical suites, Northern Thai classical and Northern Thai funeral music

Vietnam

Dr. Phong Nguyêñ

For recommendations, comments or questions, email me.